US VISA MOVE

'India may see limited impact'

Many in India expect the Trump admin to issue less number of visas due to growing unemployment in the US, says official dian professionals across the world doesn't get hampered, he said.

The US issues around 85,000 H-1B visas for skilled workers every year, of which Indians — mainly IT professionals — get an average of about 60,000, or roughly 70% of all such permits. Since the current restriction is for six months, the number of applicants for visas that could be hit in the best case would be 30,000.

However, because of a growing local unemployment and a likely massive GDP contraction in the US in the wake of the Covid-19 outbreak, many in India were, in any case, expecting the Trump administration to issue only about 5,000-10,000 visas, the official source said. So the Presidential proclamation would hit the prospect of those many visas. Moreover, the move doesn't alter the fate of the 3,00,000 H-1B visa holders from India already working there.

However, if the US extends the period of suspension and retains the curbs for a much longer period even when its economy rebounds, Indian industry — especially IT — will be hit, analysts say.

The Trump administration has temporarily suspended non-immigrant visas like H-1B, H-2B, L-1A, L-1B, J-1 and dependents. Individuals receiving these visas, or seeking entry into the US for the first time between June 24 and December 31, 2020, won't be allowed. According to a CII survey released earlier this month, 155 Indian-origin companies have investments over $22 billion in the US and have created about 125,000 jobs. The survey also pointed at Indian investments having crossed $100 million each in 20 American states. It also said over the next five years, 77% of companies intend to raise their investments in the US, while 83% plan to hire more local employees.

However, US President Donald Trump has repeatedly asked foreign firms based out of the US to hire more local workers, rather than outsourcing jobs to cheaper economies. In 2017, Trump signed the 'Buy American and Hire American' executive order to create higher employment for Americans.

Covid-19 deaths spread beyond Mumbai, Pune; hit interior Maharashtra

GEETA NAIR
Pune, June 23

THE HIGH INCIDENCE of Covid-19 cases in Mumbai and Pune has led to the Maharashtra government focusing attention here for the last three months. The state government will be stretched further in the coming days, with worrying developments in other parts of Maharashtra, especially far-flung districts. Though these districts have so far reported a lower number of positive cases, they are reporting higher mortality rates. Jalgaon, Solapur and Dhule districts are reporting mortality rates of around 9% and could be among the highest in the country.

The Maharashtra government has maintained that the pandemic has been an urban phenomenon, with more than 90% of the 1,35,796 cases reported in the top 10 municipal corporation areas of the state. The state has reported total deaths at 6,283. But there has been a lot of labour movement from industrial centres to other parts of Maharashtra post-lockdown, and the virus seems to have travelled with them to these parts, spreading the disease.

More than 10.80 lakh migrant labourers have returned to eight districts of the state over the last three months. Around 2.5 lakh people have returned to Beed district, 2 lakh to Aurangabad, 1.5 lakh to Nanded, 1.43 lakh to Latur, 1.18 lakh to Osmanabad, 1 lakh to Parbhani, 65,000 to Hingoli and 60,000 to Jalna.

While Maharashtra has a death rate, or case fatality ratio (CFR), of 4.62% as on June 23, in Solapur, Jalgaon, Dhule and Wardha, the CFR is much higher. CFR is the ratio of deaths to the total number of infections. According to CPC Analytics, which has tracked data from April 6 to June 22 across the districts of Maharashtra, Solapur had a CFR of 8.1%, Jalgaon has a CFR of 7.8%, Dhule was at 6.1%, Latur at 6.6%, Nandurbar at 6%, Washim at 5.6%, Wardha at 7.1%, Aurangabad at 5.2%, and Nashik at 5.3%.

Mango consignment, the first this season, exported to Japan by air

NANDA KASABE
Pune, June 23

NEARLY 3.5 TONNE of mangoes — the first consignment of the fruit this season — was sent to Japan by air from Mumbai on Monday. Last season, around 40 tonne of mangoes were exported to that country.

The consignment that was sent to Japan underwent vapour heat treatment at Maharashtra State Agriculture Marketing Board's (MSAMB) vapour heat treatment plant at Vashi, a norm that is mandatory for mango exports to the country, senior officials of MSAMB stated.

Japan has been importing mangoes from India since 2006 and sends inspectors to oversee the vapour heat treatment process. However, this year because of the Covid-19 outbreak, the inspectors could not be sent to Mumbai. Instead, the Japanese government permitted the Directorate of Plant Protection, Quarantine & Storage to oversee the necessary procedures, said Sunil Pawar, MD, MSAMB.

Accordingly, MSAMB officials completed the vapour heat treatment process for the mangoes, he added.

The consignment to Japan was sent by three exporters including Sai Export, Beridell Foodsoft and GuruKripa Corporation. Pawar said that although the vapour heat treatment facility was functional, no international flights were available to Japan and therefore there was delay in exports this season.

Officials said around 11,760 tonne of mangoes were exported to the Middle East, Saudi Arabia, UK, US and Germany until May-end from India. Last year same time, exports had touched 22,892 tonne. According to APEDA (Agricultural and Processed Food Products Export Development Authority), India exported 46,510.27 tonne of mangoes, worth ₹406.45 crore, in the 2018-19 fiscal year.

Maha soybean farmers worried as seeds fail to germinate

NANDA KASABE
Pune, June 23

SOYABEAN FARMERS in Maharashtra are a worried lot, with reports of seed-germination failure across soybean-growing regions in the state. The seed failure has been attributed to the poor quality of seeds and the lack of requisite moisture in the soil.

Senior officials of the quality control unit of the state agriculture department confirmed that they have been receiving reports of seed failure from farmers from certain pockets. Vijay Ghawate, director of agriculture, quality control, Maharashtra, stated that the government is in the process of verifying reports of complaints from farmers.

Committees have been formed at district levels to verify if this has happened because of the seed quality or other factors related to the monsoon. The government has also referred the problem to agriculture universities, he said. If it is proved that the germination failure has happened because of seed quality, the companies are asked to grant compensation to the farmers, he said.

Soybean is cultivated on nearly 40 lakh hectare in the state. Ghawate agreed that there has been a shortage of soybean seeds this season, since the crop was destroyed due to the extended monsoon the previous season. There has been a shortage of seeds from Mahabees Corporation, he said.
