vue to recessionary market conditions, the management decided to hold on to the project implementation for a while. In view of the improvement in the situation, the project is now expected to be commissioned expeditiously and is likely to commence production by September'2010. Also, RIICO allotted an alternative piece of land for the project due to certain issues with the proper procurement of the previous piece of land. The new land is better located and more suitable for the project. The cost over run as such is propsed to be met from internal accurals & borrowings.
